Dear Mr. Hwang:

The Office of Defects Investigation (ODI) of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has completed entering the data for the first quarter of 2000, January 1 through March 30, 2000. According to our records, Daewoo has not filed its quarterly status reports for the following safety recalls which were due on or before April 30, 2000:

99V-090: This recall involves 2,929 Daewoo 1998 and 1999 Lanos 3-Door Hatchback models manufactured October 10, 1997 through March 15, 1999. The side impact door pads have been incorrectly positioned in the doors which could lead to reduced pelvic protection for the driver or front passenger in the event of a side impact accident. These vehicles fail to conform to the requirements of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 214, "Side Impact Protection."

99V-336.001: This recall involves 2,811 Daewoo 1998-2000 Lanos model vehicles equipped with alloy wheels and manufactured from October 14, 1997 through September 27, 1999. These wheels were manufactured without the steel bushing inserts around the wheel bolt openings, allowing friction between the wheel bolt seats and the wheel bolts. This can result in the bolts loosening during hard braking. The wheels could detach from the vehicle.

In accordance with 49 CFR Part 573.6, manufacturers are required to submit consecutive quarterly status reports for every safety recall. Failure to submit these reports on time could result in civil penalties pursuant to 49 U.S.C. § 30165, or lead to an action for injunctive relief pursuant to 49 U.S.C § 30163. The quarterly reports for these recall campaigns should be submitted no later than May 26, 2000.

You may fax your report to my attention at (202) 366-7882. If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact me at (202) 366-5227.

Sincerely,
